The State Life Insurance Company

Auditor's Statement

STATE OF INDIANA,
OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
Insurance Department.

I, W. H. HART, Auditor of State, of the State of Indiana, do hereby certify that the State Life Insurance Company, with principal office at Indianapolis, Indiana, has fully complied with the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, entitled "An act for the incorporation of life insurance companies on either the stock or mutual plan, defining their powers and prescribing their duties and the duties of certain officers in connection therewith, providing penalties for the violation of this act, and declaring an emergency," approved February 10, 1899, and is duly incorporated under said act.

I further certify that I have caused to be made a valuation of the policies issued by said company and remaining in force on the 31st day of December, 1900, upon the Actuaries' Table of Mortality, with four per cent. interest, and that the net value of said policies on said day was as follows:

No. of policies.....	7,680
Amount of insurance.....	$28,339,877.00
Net cash value of net reserve liability of outstanding policies.....	$390,693.47

Three hundred and ninety thousand, six hundred ninety-three dollars and forty-seven cents.

I further certify that said company has now on deposit with this Department securities in first mortgage loans, as prescribed by law, for the security and benefit of all its policy holders, to the amount of One-Half Million Dollars ($500,000).

I further certify that the said company is authorized to transact the business of life insurance in this State.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and [SEAL] and affix my official seal, this 18th day of January, 1901.

(Signed) W. H. HART, Auditor of State.

It is worthy of note, as an illustration of the extreme care exercised in its investments, that not one cent of past due, unpaid interest remained at the end of the year.

The company is now doing business in the following States: New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, TEXAS, KENTUCKY, TENNESSEE, OHIO, INDIANA, MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA, MISSOURI, KANSAS, NEBRASKA, South Dakota, NORTH DAKOTA, Montana, Idaho, WASHINGTON, Oregon, Nevada, Utah and Colorado, and the territories of Oklahoma and New Mexico. The department officials of the States printed in caps have examined the company at its home office and without an exception have commended it for the excellent condition of its affairs.

Points of Superiority

The State Life Insurance Company does business under the Indiana compulsory reserve deposit law of 1899, which affords the insured and the company a greater degree of protection than is furnished by the laws of any other State. Under this law the auditor of state is required to ascertain annually the reserve or net cash value of all outstanding policies, and the company must keep on deposit in his office, in stipulated high-class securities, an amount equal to such reserve. The accompanying certificate of the auditor not only shows that such deposit has been made, but that the company has deposited over in excess of the amount required by law.

When there is added to the above advantages possessed by the State Life Insurance Company its record for success, which surpasses that of any and all competitors, made during the same period of their history, it should not be difficult for the insuring public of Indiana to decide which is the BEST COMPANY in which to place its business.

UNPARALLELED GROWTH

To illustrate the unparalleled growth of the STATE LIFE the following comparisons of Insurance in Force, Income, Assets, Reserve and Surplus, are submitted for each year since organization. The figures for 1895 include three months of 1894.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Bohemian Burlesquers will close with to-night's performance. Jacob's "Butterfly Burlesquers" open at to-morrow's matinee for six performances.

Joseph Arthur's latest play, "Lost River," with its quaint, interesting characters, its beautiful, rich scenery and its thrilling incidents, will be seen at English's Opera House next Monday and Tuesday nights.

About two thousand photographs of Pauline Hall were received by Manager Myers, of the Grand last night. The pictures will be given as souvenirs to all women attending the matinee performance to-morrow.

Hoyt's "A Brass Monkey," with new music, novel specialties, pretty girls and Maude Trumbull, the dainty, clever little soubrette, playing Baggage, is the attraction at the Park the first half of next week.

"An American Gentleman" will be presented for the last time at the Park Theater this afternoon and to-night. This piece has proven exceedingly popular with the patrons of the house. It is provided with an excellent company, and the scenery is above the average of that shown at popular prices.

Frank Daniels in "The Amecr," at English's to-night, is sufficient of an announcement to bring out a large and enthusiastic audience, since few comedians have a larger following in this city than Mr. Daniels. The company includes such well-known people as Helen Redmond, Norma Kopp, Kate Uart, Will Danforth, Rhys Thomas and Owen Westford.

The singing and dancing of little Carrie Ezler, in "A Ride for Life," the new play coming to the Park to-morrow afternoon, is said to be a revelation. This piece was a great success at the Grand Opera House, New York, and was declared by several of the critics in the metropolis to be one of the best comedy dramas seen in that city in years.

Dorothy Morton, the comic opera star, will make her first appearance in this city in vaudeville at the Grand next week. Flo Irwin and Walter Hawley will present the original sketch, "The Gay Miss Con." The bill will include also Caroline Hull, contralto; the Rexos, unicycle performers and expert skaters; Charles L. Fletcher, monologist; Gus Williams, Conway and Leland, one-legged dancers, and Robertus and Wilfredo, European equilibrists.

Hilda Thomas, the former Indianapolis girl, who is making a big hit at the Grand in a vaudeville sketch called "Miss Amittion," will put on a new playlet to-morrow afternoon for the remainder of the week, entitled "The Lone Star," which is said to be even brighter than the first piece. Pauline Hall will sing new songs the remainder of the week and display a set of entirely new gowns.

Hilda Thomas is being warmly received by her old friends at the Grand this week. Miss Thomas was not merely born and reared in Indianapolis, but has appeared here in comic opera in past seasons, so that it is not surprising to find her engagement in vaudeville at the Grand this week should be in the nature of a triumph. A more delightful and versatile comedienne has made it a remarkable success in New York. The engagement includes a Saturday matinee.

Marion Abbott, Mr. Herne's leading woman in "Sag Harbor," achieved considerable fame by her clever impersonation of Mrs. Lorimer, the breezy society matron with the biting tongue, in the "The Moth and the Flame." Miss Abbott's fine figure has led many of her admirers to christen her "The Minerva of the Stage." "Sag Harbor" will be presented at English's Opera House the last three nights of the current week by the same company and with the same splendid production that made it a remarkable success in New York. The engagement includes a Saturday matinee.

The guessing contest at the Zoo to fix the exact proportion of men and women in the group of Chinese dancers now giving an entertaining performance at that popular place of amusement, is progressing at a lively rate. Over one thousand guesses have been received and recorded to date. The beautiful military march executed by Col. Shute's great Dane dogs is one of the strong features of the amusement. The free list of the Zoo will be suspended Friday, which has been set apart for the management of the amusement. Chauncey Morlan, the "Indianapolis Colossus," and his wife are coming attractions.

LOCKARD—WRIGHT.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FREEPORT, Ill., Jan. 22.—Miss Isabel Wright, daughter of Mr. William O. Wright, and well known in society circles in Washington and New York, was married here to-day to Alvin Saunders Lockard, a prominent resident of Indianapolis.

The wedding was a quiet one owing to recent deaths in the Wright family, only the immediate relatives of the families witnessing the ceremony, which was pronounced by Rev. Charles E. Dunn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The bride's gown was fashioned of imported silk sent her by her brother, Captain W. O. Wright, Jr., serving in the regular army and stationed in the Philippine islands. Mr. and Mrs. Lockard have gone to California and may go on to Japan. They will reside in Indianapolis.

Beginning at the Root.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal:

It grieves me much to have to rebuke the Journal for its inability to appreciate a good thing when it is very manifest. A few days ago it criticized those members of Congress who propose prohibition for the Philippines and not for the District of Columbia, where it has unquestioned jurisdiction. To illustrate, let me tell a story.

In 1847 a popular vote was taken in Indiana on the question, "Shall we have free schools or shall we not?" The vote was largely against the proposition, and Rush county was among the foremost, if not the very foremost, in the opposition. Edward R. Ames, afterward Bishop Ames, was then presiding elder on the Indianapolis district, which included Rush county. Two or three weeks after the August election he held a camp meeting near Manila. On Sunday, when everybody from Rushville, who could get a conveyance was there, found a place in his sermon to bring in the election and its results thus: "When I left Indianapolis for this camp meeting I thought I was going into a dark corner of God's heritage, where the people are opposed to education, but soon after I crossed the county line my horse cast a shoe and I stopped at a blacksmith shop to have it reset. While the man was at work I interested myself by studying the pictures and reading the posters with which the smithy was decorated. Among the most attractive was a picture of a pig over which was a legend, 'the learned pig.' Well, well, thought I, Rush county is not opposed to education, but they prefer to begin at the root of the matter. They educate their pigs first, and if it works well on the pigs the children will come in for their share by and by." Can't the Journal see the congressmen are not opposed to prohibition, but they prefer to try it first on the Philippines? If it works well with them they will try it in the District of Columbia later on. There is more in their scheme.
